Billy (Kid) Gastreich has been matched with Young Fitzgerald for a private bout May 17. The boys will weigh in at 118 pounds at 3 o'clock and a side bet will go to the winner. Fitzgerald is a former Pittsburgh mittman, and has some reputation in his home town, but the South Side lad is confident.

Gastreich is still willing to fight Dutch Kasper, but will not agree to weigh in at 122 pounds. He claims he would be giving away four pounds in the battle and cannot be blamed for holding off.

Bob Moha and Frank Mantell fought ten punk rounds in Milwaukee last night. Mantell was considerably worse than Moha, so the cave man got the verdict. Mantell landed on Moha in the seventh with what should have been a knockout, but there was no steam in the punch.

Willie Ritchie will reach Chicago the latter part of this week, probably Friday, for his fight with Charlie White. The champion claims to be in fine condition and says he only needs a week of training. He has wired ahead for sparring partner.

Rumor Crop Blooms—Cobb To Be Fed—O'Day To Get Hook—Perhaps

Just as April showers bring May flowers, so do May showers bring forth a luxuriant crop of baseball rumors.

There being no games in our midst yesterday, the pipes burned freely and two strong dreams were developed, as follows:

Hank O'Day is to be deposed as manager of the Cubs, to be replaced by either Roger Bresnahan or Tommy Leach.

Ty Cobb, who is now believed to get $17,000 with the Detroit Tigers, will sign with the local Feds next
